

● SECURITY MERGER: The Top Security Group, Ireland's leading full-service security services provider, is to merge its two IT Security entities under one brand name — TopSec Technology.

The move comes six months after Top Security Group confirmed its acquisition of Systemhouse Technology in a deal worth in excess of €7 million. The Group has confirmed that Systemhouse Technology will henceforth operate as TopSec Technology.

In 2003 the Top Security Group became one of the first Irish security companies to launch an IT security division. Topsec Technology has specialised in providing a range of IT security services including 24 hour monitoring of critical systems as well as web and email content monitoring. The acquisition of Systemhouse has allowed TopSec Technology to further expand its offering.