

ONLINE INSURER

GOOD news for security conscious homeowners, Top Security has entered the home insurance market.

It is the first security company to enter the residential home insurance sector. It allows clients to get insurance quotes and buy online from a selection of insurance providers.

Emmet O'Rafferty, of Top Security, said: "Getting the lowest home insurance premiums is about presenting the lowest risk profile to the market. The discounts available are more than anything which has been offered to date."

Further details are available on www.topsecurity.ie